In this season of Thanksgiving, we want to recognize all of our volunteers and supporters. The gifts of your time, talent and treasure are vital to the success of our organization! We wish all of you and your families a Blessed Thanksgiving!

Volunteer Spotlight

Orphan Grain Train is powered by volunteers and Joe Harvey is a reason for our success. Have you ever come by the warehouse and commented on the beautiful grounds surrounding the building? Well, Joe is the man responsible for it all! He does grass cutting, weeding, edging, spring mulching, and fall pruning! He maintains two retention ponds and 19 flowerbeds. Joe also built the beautiful prayer garden on our property that was dedicated last year.

When not gardening for us, Joe studies theology and Christian doctrine. He enjoys exploring the Christian faith and studying God's Word. He has written a book entitled "Exploring the Christian Life in Christ". His manuscript was accepted by Christian Faith Publishing and should be available by the end of the year. Perhaps we can have our first ever book signing event at the warehouse in the near future!

Thank you, Joe, for all you do for OGT and for your strong desire to bring others to Christ.

Thank you! Thank You! Thank you!

A SHOUT OUT goes to Mike Wasem for organizing OGT'S First Annual Golf Tournament. It was a HUGE success, with 72 golfers participating. The event raised just over $6,000. This is amazing, considering it was our first ever golf tournament. Mike was responsible for coming up with the idea, making all the arrangements with the golf course, organizing the committee, finding sponsors, and rounding up golfers. He did have a committee of dedicated workers who worked behind the scenes and worked the day of the event, for which we are most grateful. But without Mike, this fundraiser never would have happened. Hats off to Mike Wasem!!!
