International Distributions

 Women from Cameroon carry home boxes and bundles of goods sent from OGT-Maryland.	 A Guatemalan woman receives a week's supply of fortified meals from a Norfolk shipment. Mark Sewell, a missionary in Guatemala City, goes out to 14 villages and shares the gospel along with much needed food.	 Women in Malawi carry off some of the many boxes of clothing, fabric, and greatly welcomed supplies sent by OGT-Mid-Atlantic.
 NEGROS in the Philippines received a bounty of school chairs, tables, and desks from OGT-Norfolk.	 Smiling families living in Romania gather around some of the boxes of clothing, layette kits, and blankets that were distributed through Foundation of the blind in this shipment sent by OGT-New England.	 Students living in Korostishev Orphanage in Ukraine recently graduated, and Alla from Bible Orphan Ministry was there to celebrate with them. Many branches send supplies to Ukraine and also support Bible Orphan Ministry financially and with shipments.

Domestic Distributions

 Twenty-one loads of hay were delivered to Texas, New Mexico, Wyoming, and Montana to help feed cattle after wildfires and continued drought.	 Over 504 semi-loads and smaller truck and trailer loads of clothing, medical supplies, furniture, bikes, food, and basic needs were shared with people all over the United States. Volunteers from OGT-Central Nebraska are packing a truck that was delivered to Valley Baptist Retreat Center in Mission, TX.
 Mission Mules OGT Continued work in Kentucky, North Carolina and now Texas as floods ensue. Orphan Grain Train is working with Mike Toberer of Mission Mules to bring food and supplies to people struggling to recover after losing their homes from mudslides and flooding. Several branches have collected needed items and delivered them to areas in each of the three states.	 Christian Appalachian Project in Paintsville, Kentucky received many loads of food, linens, clothing, medical equipment, and hygiene supplies from several branches. Volunteers from OGT-New England finish up loading one of their three loads they sent to CAP.
	 On March, 23, 2025, OGT-Houston dedicated it's beautiful new Servant Center in Pasadena, Texas.
